Friends - Below please find a link to today's New York Times article on USC's efforts to ensure that South and Eastside youth are prepared, accepted into and graduate from college. The article focuses on the USC Neighborhood Academic Initiative which is a pre-college program starting in 6th grade. Thru this program over 900 local students have used the N.A.I. as an on ramp to higher education (more than a third end up at USC and others attend numerous UC's, CSU's, Ivy Leagues, and service academies).
